

CURLEW ACTION

A CHARITY DEDICATED TO REVERSING
THE DECLINE OF BREEDING CURLEWS AND PROMOTING WIDER NATURAL HISTORY
EDUCATION

CURLEWS HAVE DECLINED BY 65%
SINCE 1970, IF WE DON'T ACT NOW WE
ARE IN DANGER OF LOSING THEM
ALTOGETHER

WHY CURLEWS?

---

If we allow the curlew to go extinct we are losing more than a beautiful bird, it also means that wildlife across Britain is in real trouble. Anyone who has heard a curlew knows that they are worth protecting in their own right, but they are also important indicators of the health of our countryside. Their yearly travels take them from the coast through to farmland and up onto high ground. Their decline is telling us all is not well across the landscapes of Britain.

NATURAL HISTORY EDUCATION

---

Over the last 40 years the UK has lost 50% of the mass of its wildlife, but we cannot protect what we don't understand. Curlew Action has spearheaded the campaign for a GCSE in natural history, to place nature at the heart of education. But we won't stop there! We will keep pushing for natural history to become an integral part of education at every level.

*Too young for a GCSE...
But showing great promise!*
